Tracking Tool: The Antidote to Slow, Frustrating [REDACTED] Reporting

Each year [REDACTED] has a $[REDACTED] pool of money that it disburses to provide training subsidies to [REDACTED] employers. Navigating the complex procedures for obtaining these cash reimbursements is [REDACTED] specialty.

The State [REDACTED] suggests using a consultant to submit training rosters to [REDACTED] for large companies. We suggest cutting out the middle man while keeping the convenience and ease of working with a consultant.

Our [REDACTED] software is how we've managed our clients' projects for a decade. Now, this professional software can be in your hands.

[REDACTED] gives you:

- A more cost-effective solution than hiring a consultant
- A more user-friendly experience than the state's [REDACTED] portal
- Thousands, on average, in savings thanks to application efficiencies and error-reduction
- A professional platform based on 10 years of experience and 300+ successful [REDACTED] submissions

Better Than a Consultant?

The State [REDACTED] recommends companies with 600+ employees utilize a consultant to submit [REDACTED] information. However, consultants who can navigate the cumbersome [REDACTED] portals can quickly get expensive. Also, while consultants process training rosters as efficiently as possible, they are still middlemen between your business and the government.

[REDACTED] simplifies the data entry process while maintaining the quality assurance of a consultant, and keeping your team in the driver's seat.

Improved User Experience

[REDACTED] keeps your user experience front and center. Our training rosters are laid out to reduce scrolling and manual searching. Enhanced search capabilities also mean you can quickly find a trainee's information with partial information, out of a pool of hundreds of participants. Meanwhile, [REDACTED] tools require exact searches on poorly laid out pages.

Besides dodging a frustrating experience with [REDACTED] portals, [REDACTED] saves you time and money. By avoiding various small, repetitive battles, you'll easily save hours of work and hundreds (maybe thousands) of dollars through [REDACTED] efficiencies.

More Skilled Employees, Greater ROI

[REDACTED] projects typically range from $ [REDACTED] to $ [REDACTED] in reimbursements for training and upskilling hundreds of employees. [REDACTED] starts at around $ [REDACTED] meaning you reach the same outcomes without all the costs associated with hiring a consultant.

Those funds can go right back into investments in more training for more employees or resources and promotions for those already trained.
